Market Overview

Global equity markets had mixed results for the quarter, with US equity markets rising as non-US equity markets fell. The difference in results can be attributed in part to the various ways in which countries have been affected by the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, which has worsened as the Delta variant of COVID-19 has spread rapidly across populations. Emerging-market equity had the biggest losses as China Evergrande Group, a Chinese property developer, faced the possibility of financial collapse. As of August 2021, the US unemployment rate fell to 5.2%, with companies and industries still grappling with labor shortages.

Global bond prices were mostly higher during the quarter, with the exception of emerging-market debt. At its September meeting, the US Federal Reserve (Fed) left interest rates unchanged and continued its current pace of bond-buying. However, the Fed stated that it may begin to reduce its bond purchases if economic data such as employment and inflation continue to normalize. Other global central banks are following suit, looking to delay monetary tightening as economies continue to deal with disruptions stemming from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Performance Summary

- Hartford Conservative Allocation Fund (I Share) underperformed its benchmark and the Lipper Mixed-Asset Target Conservative Funds peer-group average during the period.
- The main driver of the Fund's underperformance versus the benchmark was the exposure to global sovereigns and small-cap US equities.
- The performance of the underlying positions relative to their individual benchmarks partially offset the underperformance. In particular, Hartford World Bond Fund outperformed its benchmark.

Positioning & Outlook

- We believe investors will be better-compensated for risk in equity markets than in fixed income and remain overweight to equity relative to fixed income.
- We remain positive on developed markets as the reopening story remains in play with vaccination rates increasing and the economic recovery continuing while central-bank support is still strong.

Important Risks: Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. Security prices fluctuate in value depending on general market and economic conditions and the prospects of individual companies. • The ability of the Fund to meet its investment objective is directly related to the ability of the underlying funds to meet their objectives as well as the investment manager's allocation among those underlying funds. The Fund is subject to the risks of the underlying funds, in direct proportion to the amount of assets it invests in each underlying fund. The underlying funds are subject to the risks of the general equity market, small- and mid-cap securities, foreign and emerging-markets securities, fixed-income securities (which carry credit, liquidity, call, duration, and interest-rate risk), high-yield ("junk") bonds, mortgage-related and asset-backed securities, and derivatives.

¹Expenses as shown in the Fund's most recent prospectus. Gross expenses do not reflect contractual expense reimbursement arrangements. Net expenses reflect such arrangements in instances when they reduce gross expenses. These arrangements remain in effect until 2/28/22 unless the Fund's Board of Directors approves an earlier termination.

Investors should carefully consider a fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses. This and other important information is contained in a fund's full prospectus and summary prospectus, which can be obtained by visiting hartfordfunds.com. Please read it carefully before investing.
