Finding Growth in Unexpected Places

Investors seeking growth should consider the Hartford Growth Opportunities Fund, which searches for opportunities beyond traditional sectors.

Growth Through Flexibility

The Fund has the flexibility to look for growth anywhere. The team searches for companies of all sizes, regardless of geography or sector, that exhibit early signs of earnings momentum.

Differentiated by Discipline

While many growth funds focus exclusively on upside potential, the Fund's unique valuation discipline also factors in loss potential to help manage risk.

Performance Through Active Management

The Fund's high-active-share* approach (i.e., willingness to look different than its benchmark) has helped it deliver strong returns in a variety of market environments. Unlike passive approaches, this provides investors with the potential for market-beating returns.
