Is Your Core Strong?

Large-cap stocks make up the largest portion of most portfolios, and the Hartford Core Equity Fund focuses on quality, large-cap US companies that can be an excellent foundation on which to build a strong portfolio.

Focusing on Fundamentals

The Hartford Core Equity Fund's investment management team relies on their extensive experience with large-cap companies and the deep, fundamental research from Wellington Management to create a portfolio that focuses on US companies with improving quality, business momentum, and attractive valuations.

A Patient, Long-Term Approach

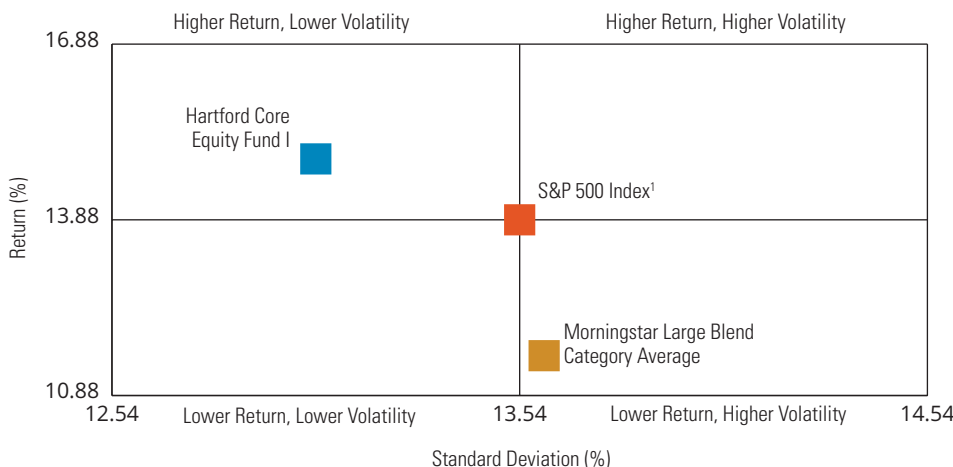

Many portfolio managers seek a catalyst based on what may happen to a company over the next six to 12 months. By contrast, the Fund focuses on what a company may look like over the next three to five years. The end result is a portfolio that has between 60 and 100 holdings (versus 500 holdings in its benchmark).

Strong Performance With Low Fees

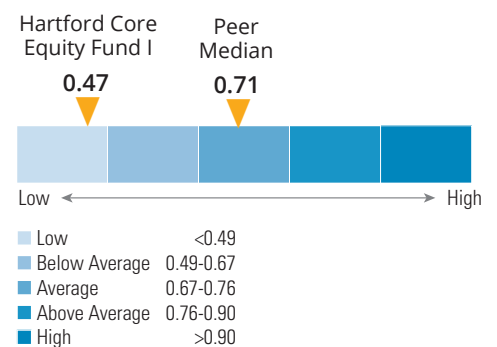

When it comes to large-cap core funds, two things matter most: performance and fees. The Fund has outperformed the S&P 500 Index over the past 10 years. Our fee level ranking is also in the lowest quintile, beating our peer group median.
