

Thomas Barrett

Managing Director
Applied Insights

Tom Barrett is a managing director of applied insights for Hartford Funds. Tom engages and educates financial professionals and their clients about emerging opportunities in financial services. These opportunities range from tactical strategies in areas such as retirement-income planning and legacy planning to anticipating and preparing for long-term demographic and lifestyle changes.

In October 2006, Tom joined the organization as a sales coordinator, and then became an internal advisor consultant before working on digital marketing and communications. Tom was president of the Hartford Funds Public Speaking Club for six years. He is a registered representative of Hartford Funds Distributors and is FINRA Series 7, 6, 63, and Life registered.

Originally from Wayne, Pennsylvania, Tom attended West Chester University. He currently lives in West Chester, Pennsylvania.
